Foreword

This bulletin conveys the 69th annual report of the Director of the New Hampshire Agricultural Experiment Station. Listed herein are number, title, and personnel for each of the formal projects active during all or any part of the fiscal year ended June 30, 1957. Also included are a listing of the staff, the titles and authors of publications, a financial statement, and a brief review of services.

Publications of the Station consist of bulletins, reports, reprints of scientific articles in professional journals, mimeographed commentaries, and the Progress Report. A printed list of available publications may be obtained from the Mail Clerk upon request.

Many of our research projects have been supported by grants from industrial organizations. We recognize them as expressions of confidence in the Experiment Station staff. All such gifts have been acknowledged with gratitude. The research program is also augmented by the assignment of five cooperative agents of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Current emphasis in the research program is in four general areas, namely, poultry diseases, breeding improved fruits and vegetables, dairy nutrition, and economic marketing. It has not yet seemed feasible to allocate our limited resources to such currently important areas as new crops and conservation of natural resources. The technological revolution in production has created new problems with respect to the management and reorganization of the farm business. Because of difficulty in employing a man well disciplined in farm management, this area of investigation has been neglected. Current problems of integration also tend to emphasize the importance of farm management research.

United States farmers are the most efficient producers of food and fiber to be found anywhere in the world. Never in history has such a small proportion of our population fed and clothed the people so well, and never could a laborer purchase so much food with so few hours of labor as now in the United States. All this adds up to a tremendous achievement, and is evidence of the large return to society on its investment in agricultural research. It is not likely that we will ever have a perfect plant or animal, or a perfect control of pests. Research can neither decline nor remain static in a flourishing economy.

Active Research Projects

July 1, 1956 — June 30, 1957

Administration

- H-111 General Administration of Federal-Grant Fund Research. H. C. Grinnell, M. C. Richards.
- H-112 Planning and Coordination of Cooperative Research. H. C. Grinnell.
- H-113 The Planning and Coordination of Research Under Regional Project NE-18, Economics of Forage Production and Utilization. H. C. Grinnell.
- H-115 The Planning and Coordination of Research Under Regional Project NE-33, Economics of Irrigation on Northeastern Farms. H. C. Grinnell.

Agricultural and Biological Chemistry

- H-42 Soluble Substances in Grass and Legume Silages. T. G. Phillips, Margaret Loughlin.
- H-46 Determination of Calcium and Magnesium in Plant Material. Warren Averill. (Project closed 1/15/57.)
- H-47 The Hemicellulose of Forage Crops. T. G. Phillips.
- H-71 Effect of Soil Type and Mineral Additions on the Mineral Content of Clover and Timothy. G. P. Percival, Dorothy Josselyn.
- H-77 Analysis of Forage Samples. G. P. Percival, Dorothy Josselyn.
- H-86 Prevention of Discoloration of Pre-Peeled Raw Potatoes. Warren Averill. (Project closed 1/15/57.)
- H-124 Influence of the Ration of Laying Hens on the Nutritive Value of the Eggs. A. E. Teeri, Warren Averill.
- S-52 The Nutritive Value of Fish and Other Marine Products. A. E. Teeri, Margaret Loughlin, Dorothy Josselyn.

Agricultural Economics

- H-59 A Study of the Problems of Obtaining Farming Capital, W. K. Burkett. (Project closed 6/30/57.)
- H-80 Costs and Efficiency in Marketing Poultry Products. W. F. Henry.
- NEM-11 (Project closed 6/30/57.)
- H-95 Alternative Markets and Prices for New Hampshire Milk Produced in Excess of Fluid Requirements with Particular Reference to the Boston Milkshed. J. R. Bowring.
- H-96 The Extent of Migration and Its Effect on Rural Communities in NE-31 New Hampshire. J. R. Bowring, O. B. Durgin, M. C. Purington.
- H-101 Opportunities for the Small Nurseryman in Developing Market NEM-15 Outlets. L. A. Dougherty.
- H-106 Competitive Position of the New England Apple Industry with Particular Reference to New Hampshire. W. H. Drew.

- H-109 Economic Effects of Changes in Retail Food Marketing Services. NEM-17 W. H. Drew.
- S-44 Cost Reduction in Dairying. W. F. Henry.
- S-61 Evaluation of Methods of Improvement in Decision Making. O. B. Durgin.
- S-72 Economic Evaluation of Alternative Production Practices on Specialized Poultry Farms in New Hampshire. W. F. Henry.

Agricultural Engineering

- H-107 Agricultural Climatology of New England. J. J. Kolega.
NE-35
- H-108 Effect of Tractor Weight on Soil Compaction. G. L. Byers.
- S-65 Efficiency of Forage Harvesting. G. L. Byers, J. J. Kolega.
- S-66 Developing Labor Saving Equipment for Agriculture. P. A. Gilman, J. J. Kolega.

Agronomy

- H-32 The Adaptation of New Potato Varieties. P. T. Blood.
- H-33 Variety Trials of Grain Crops for Forage and Grain Yields. L. J. Higgins.
- H-69 The Influence of Fertilization and Stage of Cutting on the Yield, Persistency, and Protein Content of Bromegrass (Bromus inermis). N. K. Peterson, P. T. Blood, V. T. Valassis.
- H-83 The Influence of Deep Tillage and Fertilizer Placement on Soil Structure and Crop Production on Soils with Compact Subsoils. NE-11 S. A. Miller, N. K. Peterson.
- H-93 Evaluation of Soil Physical Conditions that are Favorable to the Yield of Crops. S. A. Miller.
NE-11
- H-94 The Adaptation and Productivity of Regionally Developed Selections and Strains of Smooth Bromegrass as Related to Morphologic and Physiologic Characteristics. G. M. Dunn, S. A. Tamimi.
NE-23
- H-99 Water and Fertilizer Requirements of Selected Crops and Soils as Related to Supplemental Irrigation. A. B. Prince, P. T. Blood, G. M. Dunn.
NE-22
- H-105 The Improvement of White Clover. G. M. Dunn and R. A. Kilpatrick, USDA Cooperator.
- H-116 Improvement of Smooth Bromegrass, Red Clover and Alfalfa. G. M. Dunn, L. J. Higgins, S. A. Tamimi.
- S-43 A Survey of the Soils of New Hampshire. W. H. Lyford, USDA Cooperator.
- S-54 Soil Fertility Studies of Forage Crops. A. B. Prince.
- S-59 An Economic Evaluation of Forage Production and Utilization With Emphasis on Pastures. F. S. Prince.

Bacteriology

- H-49 Studies on Bovine Mastitis. L. W. Slanetz, F. E. Allen. (Project Closed 1/31/57.)

- H-62 Investigations on the Microorganisms of the Bovine Rumen. W. A. Ayers.
- H-120 Diagnosis and Control of Bovine Mastitis. L. W. Slanetz, F. E. Allen, G. J. Maraglia.

Botany

- H-34 Testing Tomato Varieties for Resistance to Late Blight Pathogen. A. E. Rich. (Project closed 1/31/57.)
- H-44 Propagation of Woody Plants. Stuart Dunn, S. C. Datta.
- H-57 Fungicide Investigations. A. E. Rich, J. G. Barrat, A. D. Partridge, C. S. Campbell.

- S-62 A Study of the Complication of Pleuropneumonia-like Organisms when Newcastle Disease and Infectious Bronchitis Vaccinations (Dust) Are Carried Out. W. R. Dunlop. (Project closed May 23, 1957.)
- S-71 Control of Avian Coccidiosis. R. G. Strout. W. R. Dunlop, W. C. Skoglund.

State Services

Inspection of Fertilizers and Feedingstuffs

The laboratory has analyzed the official samples of commercial fertilizers and fertilizer materials as submitted by the State Department of Agriculture. Of the 174 samples submitted, 103 met the guarantee in all respects. In addition to the usual nitrogen, phosphoric acid, and potash analyses, magnesium and boron were determined in samples of brands carrying guarantees for these elements.

In general the manufacturers continue to supply a good product to our farmers. Detailed results of the analyses of these samples are published in Bulletin 432 of this Station.

In this fiscal year the Control Supervisor submitted 702 official samples of feedingstuffs. Of these, 63 samples represented cat and/or dog foods. Deficiencies were in general small and on the over-all basis, 3.4 percent were deficient in protein, 4.9 percent were deficient in fat, and 3.7 percent contained excess crude fiber. Percentagewise the cat and dog foods varied more from the guarantee than the other type of feeds. These feeds are improving in this respect as time goes on. Sixty-seven samples represented bulk deliveries of feeds and 61 of them were drawn at the farm. Since more and more feed, as well as fertilizer, is being delivered directly from the point of manufacture to the farm, the inspectors are drawing more samples at the farm.

Constant check is maintained on the analytical methods used in the laboratory. Two check sample programs are participated in by this laboratory. Over 100 laboratories throughout the country take part in these programs. The laboratory is also asked by manufacturers to supply a part of our sample for checking purposes in many cases when we report a deficiency. In order to continue a good standing, it is necessary that the procedures of analysis be continually checked.

A total of 32 samples of miscellaneous materials, such as hay, silages, etc., were examined for residents of the state.

H. A. DAVIS

Soil Testing

During the last fiscal year residents of the state have submitted 4,190 soil samples for analysis of pH and available nutrients. This work entailed 29,330 determinations. Two hundred twenty-five samples from greenhouses were tested for soluble salts. Five peat and muck samples submitted for identification were analyzed for moisture content, organic matter content, and for pH value, and suggestions were made as to their commercial value.

Seventeen samples were submitted by veterinarians to be tested for specific poisons.

G. P. PERCIVAL

Seed Inspection

Seed inspection work for the New Hampshire State Department of Agriculture was conducted during the past year. The results of the tests of 680 official samples collected by the State Seed Inspectors throughout the state are reported in Station Bulletin 445. In addition, 1,173 private samples were sent in by seed dealers and farmers, making a total of 1,853 samples handled at the laboratory.

The laboratory took part in the referee testing of samples sent out to all official seed testing laboratories in United States and Canada.

BESSIE G. SANBORN

Diagnostic Service Performed at the Poultry Laboratory

From July 1, 1956, to June 30, 1957, a total of 5,966 specimens of all kinds were submitted to the Poultry Laboratory for diagnosis. These represented 2,286 cases.

A total of 4,492 chicken specimens were examined, and 110 turkeys and 15 miscellaneous birds. Forty-eight cases consisting of 65 specimens from various animals were also handled by the laboratory personnel. There were 199 cases (834 samples) of blood samples submitted for immunity tests.

Infectious Bronchitis Virus

The Poultry Laboratory has continued to grow infectious bronchitis virus on embryonating eggs, and after being tested for purity and potency it is sold to poultrymen of the state for inoculation of their susceptible birds. During the fiscal year, 150 lots of this virus were supplied to New Hampshire poultrymen.

Pullorum Testing

Testing of poultry for pullorum disease in the state is done by the Poultry Laboratory at the University. During the fiscal year, 1,261,574 birds were tested by means of the tube agglutination test.

In addition, 21,650 samples were re-tested, thus giving a total of 1,283,224 samples tested for the year.

Of 336 flocks tested, one was found to harbor infection. Thus .0035 percent of the birds under test was infected.
